ISPR has successfully conducted the 7th Mid-term CME at Goa on 30th May, 2015, with a great national faculty participating in the CME. It was well organized by a young brigade of bright radiologists from Goa who put up a great show. Speakers, Chairpersons and office bearers of ISPR were presented hand made flowers made by differently abled children from an organization named Aastha's Anand Niketan which is run by a radiologist from Goa.

Our dynamic office bearers upholding the ISPR flag in the International area makes us proud to be an integral part of WFPI (World Federation of Paediatric Imaging) and now India will host the AOSPR 2018.

We look forward to a wonderful 13th Annual National Conference in Lucknow on 11th & 12th September, 2015.

ISPR marches on with a dedicated team of paediatric radiologists highlighting the essence of paediatric radiology in India and its importance in everyday radiology practice.

Long live ISPR!

Welcome To The City of Nawab

Dear Colleagues,

The organising committee of ISPR 2015 takes great pleasure in welcoming you to Lucknow city, the capital of Uttar Pradesh also popularly known as the 'the city of Nawabs'. Situated on the banks of the river Gomti, it is said to have been founded by Lakshmana the brother of Lord Rama. The era of Nawabs started when Nawab Asaf-ud-Daula made Lucknow his capital in 1775. The era of the nawabs has gifted Lucknow with the literature, music, dance and arts and crafts that draw tourists here. In fact, it was in the streets of the city only that Tabla and Sitar were born. Be it its delicious cuisine, its heart melting culture or the exquisite chikankari work, the city leaves an everlasting impression on its visitors. It is one of the few places where one can still find people saying 'aap', 'janab', 'pehle aap', etc. Even though flats have replaced Nawabi mansions, the city is still as charismatic as before. The month of September, is indeed an ideal time to visit this beautiful city, with the weather being pleasant and cool. So, come to Lucknow and lose yourself in the magic and allure of the city.
